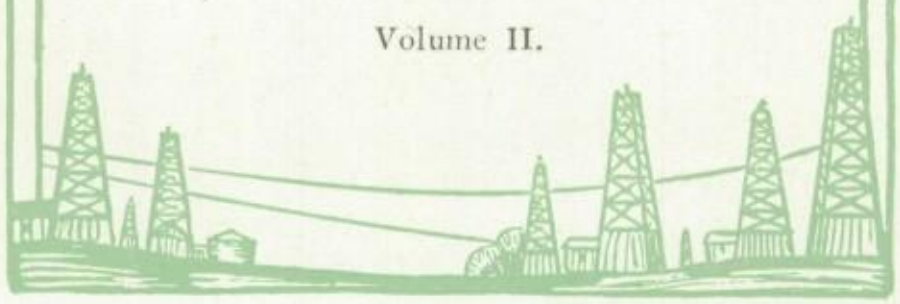
The Wolverine

1930

Published by the Students of
GARBER HIGH SCHOOL

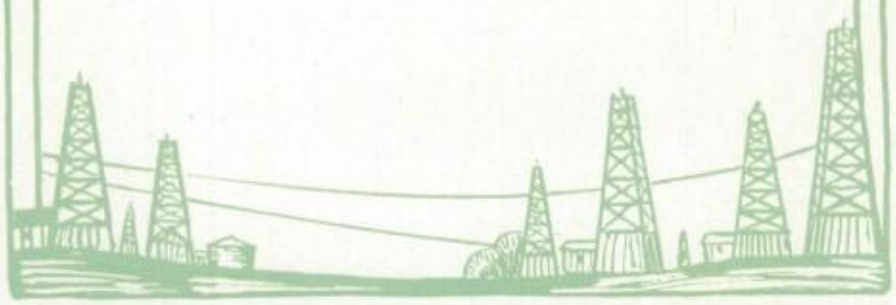
Volume II.



Foreword

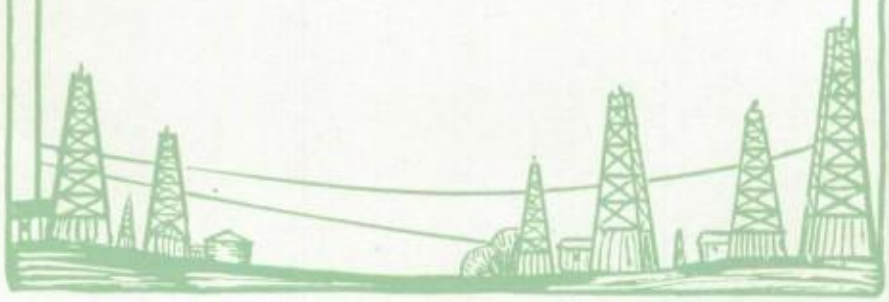
In this volume of the Wolverine we have endeavored to leave a faithful record of the achievements of our high school, a record which may help us to treasure rememberance of the happy and eventful days spent here.

May this volume not only give pleasure in the present, but may it bring happy memories to those who review its pages in the years to come.



Appreciation

We, the pupils of Garber High School feel that this volume would not be the true spirit of the Wolverines, or be complete without some expression of our deep appreciation which we feel for the business men of Garber. Their interest in all school activities and their unselfish efforts in bettering our school have made possible our achievements of the past year. We owe much to them, and want them to know that their support is sincerely appreciated by the Wolverines.



Dedication

As the Pilgrim Fathers with courage and perserverance went forth and made the way for a great nation, so the past alumni with splendid strength and co-operation made possible the progress of our school. They set excellent standards which the present alumni have upheld and improved. It is our earnest hope that the future alumni will carry out this dream. To them we dedicate this volume of the Wolverine.

MISS LEONE PETERS

MISS LEONE PETERS, Sponsor

To Miss Leone Peters, who has been our devoted sponsor during our senior high school life, do we owe more than we can ever repay. Her faith, sympathy, and enthusiasm have been a constant inspiration. We can hope only that her reward will be as great as ours has been.

CLASS HISTORY

The year 1928 held one of the largest classes of Sophomores in Garber High School. There were nearly sixty members enrolled.

The Junior Class continued with the same group, with the exception of a few new members.

The one outstanding ability of the class was to act as a unit. During this year, our class placed the largest number of football boys on the team and several of them made All-conference team.

At the beginning of the school term of 1929, Lonnie Surrett joined our group. He entered at once into the school activities, and because of his unusual ability, became the class president and has continued to serve throughout his Senior year.

The members of the Junior class were a steady, reliable group and entered into the activities of the school with loyalty and enthusiasm.

One of the outstanding achievements of the Junior class was the Annual Junior-Senior banquet, which was declared the most beautiful and the most successful banquet which has ever been given at the Garber High School.

This Senior Class began with forty-three members enrolled. Many new members were added and many loyal classmates lost, which we regret very much. Up to this time twelve of our classmates have been lead away into matrimony, four graduated with the class of '29.

At the present time we find that those who have been fortunate enough to follow the class through since the class graduated from Junior High are: Mildred Stam, Robert Bridges, Velma Kindt, John Wolford, Dorothy Richard, Dudley Roland, Clyde Houseman, Lucille Ford, Jesse Hutcherson, Jack Conn, Estella Boyer, Aaron Stoker, Anna Krivohlavek, Eda Lou Barhyte, Evelin Southwick, Wesley Lowery, Lloyd Conn, Lucile Goodwin, Francis Huffman, Earl Messal, Edna Dosser, Cleda Sims, Wyley Cramer, Violet Hutcherson, Melvin Riggs, Louise Grother and John Nipper.

Other members who have joined the class in later years are: Wayne Harris, Gerald Sparks, Lida Polifka, Dawn Fletcher, Blossom Temple, Phyllis Harrington, Merle Stebbins, Lonnie Surrett, Ethel Worrell, Irene Morgan, Willa Dell Owensby, Richard Taft, Esther Thornbrue, and Cecil Elliot.

Except for one, who is a Junior, all the boys who were eligible for the first team in football this year are graduating. The who boys have made the All-conference team are: John Wolford, Guard; Jack Conn, Second Team; Aaron Stoker, Tackle; Wesley Lowery, End; Earl Messal, Fullback.

Six members of the Senior Class having an A- average made the Honor Roll. One of these, Estella Boyer, has had the honor of belonging to the Oklahoma State Honor Society for four years.

CLASS WILL

We, the in-mates of Cell No. 9 of the school of Garber, the state of Oklahoma, about to be released from our short term of imprisonment, not because of good behavior, but because we have served our full sentence of breaking the Rocks of Knowledge, do hereby will and bequeath to our wardens and mates the possessions that are dearest to our hearts.

We bequeath to Mr. Owensby a private cell for judging juveniles.

To Mr. Boyd, we will a pair of roller skates that he may more easily catch those skipping Study Hall.

To Mr. Charvoz, we will a higher "Look-out Post" to be used between classes.

To Mr. Crosnoe, we will a rock pile for his agriculture students.

To Miss McGurie, we will a Public Speaking Class that can write orations within at least six months.

To Mrs. Caldwell, we will a Home Ec. Class that can tell sugar from salt.

To Miss Boxley, we will a new Victrola record for her typing class.

To Miss LaGrange, we will an intelligent American Litreature class that is capable of writing book reports.

To Miss Lyhene, we will a key ring and the book "How to Answer Ten Questions at Once."

To Mrs. Coker, we will a Glee Club that can sing in harmony.

We will to the in-mates of Cell No. 13, our Cell No. 9.

I, Richard Taft, will my book "How to Retain that Girlish Figure" to Elsworth Parrack.

I, Floyd Conn, will my "Little Brown Jug" to Joe Lyhene.

I, Aaron Stoker, will my razor to Leon Huntsinger.

I, Earl Messall, will my ability to get through High School in five years to Jack Lafferty.

I, John Wolford, will my popularity among the Junior girls to Arthur Duncan.

I, Melvin Riggs, will stripes to Arthur Hayes, with hopes that he won't have to wear them many years.

I, John Nipper, will my middle name to some unfortunate underclassmate.

I, Cecil Elliot, will some of my typing ability to George Enochs.

I, Wayne Harris, will some of my "wise cracks" to Tommy Green.

I, Cleda Sims, will my voice to Florence Hill.

I, Dudley Roland, will some of my good traits to Wendell Cole.

I, Robert Bridges, will the High School a mirror to hang in the hall so that the students may comb their hair.

I, Merle Stebbins, will my charming personality to Myles Perks.

I, Ethel Worrell, will my "dynamic personality" to Dalomi Gordon.

I, Lloyd Conn, will a few of my "temperance traits" to Claude Compton.

I, Esther Thornbrue, will my "drug store complexion" to Daisy Willshire.

I, Francis Huffman, will my sweet disposition to Elizabeth Smith.

I, Lonnie Surrett, will my "good looks" to Otto Miller.

I, Wyley Cramer, will my curley hair to Arlie Ogburn.

I, Lida Polifka, will my Psychology grades to Hubert Moore.

I, Violet Hutcherson, will my popularity to Louise Wolford.

I, Irene Morgan, will my physical beauty to Mattie Ogburn.

I, Blossom Temple, will my ability to vamp Clair Gregg to Thelma Housmon.

I, Phyllis Harrington, will my absence and tardy record to Maxine Raulston.

I, Wesley Lowery, will my "girlish ways" to Clarence Hamann.

I, Clyde Housmon, will my place as Football Queen to Lucy Krivohlavek.

I, Jesse Hutcherson, will my American Lit. grades to Adah Myrle Hodges.

I, Eda Lou Barhyte, will my ability as an actress to Eula Oberlander.

I, Evelin Southwick, will my place in the Girls Quartette to Beatrice Bowen.

I, Lucile Ford, will my nickname, "Josie", to Mary Ford.

I, Gerald Sparks, will my place on the Basketball team to Glennwood Clow.

I, Estella Boyer, will my good grades to Vera Mae Gilger.

I, Willa Dell Owensby, will my oratorical ability to Elizabeth Porter.

I, Anna Krivohlavek, will my "hold on Lonnie Surrett" to Lucy Dvoracek.

I, Mildred Stam, will my height to Olga Gallatin.

I, Dorothy Richards, will my quiet disposition to Samis Peters.

I, Louise Grother, will my class recitations to Julia Stam.

I, Velma Kindt, will my "flapperish" ways to Mildred Miles.

I, Lucille Goodwin, will my glasses to Bob Failing.

I, Edna Dosser, will my Spanish ability to my brother, Glenn.

I, Dawn Fletcher, will my writing of next year's will to whomsoever may be so unfortunate.

Duly witnessed on this day by the in-mates of Cell No. 9.

Signed X (their mark).

CLASS WILL

We, the class of 1930, of Garber Junior High School, in 48 distinct and separate parts, being about to pass from this present plane of existence and to enter a higher, being also in full possession of a sound body (weight, 4320 lbs., and girth, 1104 in.) and a crammed mind, do make and publish this our last will and testament, hereby making void any former wills or promises to anyone whatsoever.

And first we do ask, as the last request of a dying class, that our beloved guardian will deal in all tenderness with the relics and orphans that we are forced to leave behind us.

As for such estate as our brilliant minds and diligent hands have been able to wrest for us, by wearying hours of ceaseless toil, from obscure books and close-mouthed and secretive teachers, we do dispose of it as follows:

We do will and bequeath to our beloved Superintendent, Prof. J. A. Owensby, a continued interest in our high school career together with sundry well-worn paddles and the privilege of encouraging, correcting, and inspiring us in the future as in the past.

To our devoted sponsors we do bequeath a new class with different customs and language (not so good)—a class that crowds into the fields of learning as cattle crowd into the green fields of wheat (and one that chews as contentedly as they)—a class that will be winner in every contest, that will never hesitate to hand over ample supplies of money for every public enterprise, that will never fail to supply itself with text books, and above all a class that will be eager to wash dishes after every party.

To our faculty, we bequeath a vast store of accumulated and classified knowledge, knowing that they will need it in the years to come while we, happily arrived in Senior High School, will have no further use for it. We also leave to them the satisfaction of having been instructors to the largest and most brilliant class that ever graduated from Junior High School.

To the Juniors we bequeath our empty desks together with any remnants of gum that may adhere to them, also our fluent use of the English language, our list of important dates in history, our wonderful grasp of the principles of algebra, the remnants of laboratory equipment that have proved indestructible, any unburned beans found in the cafeteria, and any interesting stories to be found in the farm magazines furnished by the Agriculture Department.

BASKET BALL TEAM

BASKET BALL SEASON

When the basket ball season of 1930 had ended we granted that a very successful season had been completed—a season of attained ambitions despite obstacles of a nature. Our caging squad came from inexperienced ranks, but soon through constant effort and practice, forced themselves to the front like veterans.

Our first game was played with the fast Ponca Citians who downed us with a 36-12 score. After this so-called lashing, the Wolverines, with a fast aerial attack, defeated the Deer Creek Quintet 35-25, in a matched duel, played on our own "dueling grounds". Our next game proved another victory for our squad, and a defeat for the boys of Hunter. The score was decidedly in Garber's favor. After these two victories the Garber quintet went through a period of reconstruction and recuperation. After practically two nights of practice, the Wolverines were downed by the Hunter squad. The next game of the season was with the Tonkawa five, who were defeated by a score of 18-14. With this victory in mind our chosen squad, determined to win, went to Pond Creek the following Friday to meet the fast Pond Creek cagers. The boys were not outclassed in style, but lack of experience was against them. However, our squad fought throughout the game with a true Wolverine spirit. Without further comment we were licked fair and square. But with the conference tournament in view, our boys settled down to a hard week's practice.

Our first game was with Hunter, which we won by a scorching score of 27-1. Our next game was with Medford, who likewise went down with a 25-17 count. The next afternoon we faced the Pond Creek team, who had beaten us a week before. Well, is seems as though they won again, "or words to that effect." The last game was with the plainsmen of Enid and ended in their favor. This closed the basket ball season of 1929-30, with the Wolverines' names graven on basket ball history.

Those who were awarded sweaters at the end of the season are as follows: Myles Perks, Jesse Morris, Jesse Hutcherson, Gerald Sparks, and Wyley Cramer.

REVIEW OF TRACK

Although track is a minor sport in this section of the country, Garber High School devotes spring athletic training to this sport. Two hours a day, five days a week, are spent in practising this sport. Dual and triangular meets are scheduled during the season, and much interest has been taken in them.

During the past season Garber was fairly successful in competing with other schools. Garber won a dual meet over Hunter, and a triangular meet over Marland and Perry. In the Salt Fork Conference Track and Field meet at Jet, Garber won fifth place.

Individual honors went to: Wesley Lowery, first place in the 120 yard high hurdles; Earl Messall, second place in the discus throw; Aaron Stoker, third place in the high jump, and the relay team won third place in the relay.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT

Under the supervision of Mr. S. M. Crosnoe, this department has made an enviable record this term. More outstanding achievements have never been accomplished in one year in this department than Mr. Cosnoe has attained.

Briefly, the aims and purposes of the work of this department are to teach the boys better and more efficient methods of crop and livestock production, methods of soil preservation, and improvements of living conditions on the farm. It is their belief that most people learn by doing, so all the boys are required to have at least one project, either in crops, livestock, or poultry production. In this way the boys "earn while they learn." Some of the boys are acquiring a good start in livestock herds through their project earnings.

The vocational agriculture department not only works with the boys of the high school, but with the adults of the community. Much community service has been done among the farmers such as vaccinating and other veterinary work, terracing, pruning, culling, etc. This service cannot be definitely estimated in dollars and cents, but we can get some estimate of the earnings of the boys' projects.

The Garber vocational agriculture department has accomplished some outstanding feats this year. Their community crops booth placed fiifth at Tulsa State Fair, first at Oklahoma City State Fair, and sixth at Garfield County Fair, winning $170.00 in premiums. Francis Hill's Junior Hereford was Grand Champion at Oklahoma City State Fair and second at Wichita Fat Stock Show, earning over $310.00 for Francis's work. The Vocational boys with projects won $478.00 in premiums last fall at the various fairs and sold all their livestock at good prices.

At the Southwest American Livestock Show at Oklahoma City this spring, the boys won $162.00 in premiums and sold calves at good prices. These boys learn that three things are required to make a winner—good stock, a good feeder, and a good showman. They learn how to buy, feed, and sell livestock so as to really make a profit on it. Several former vocational students are using this knowledge in building up herds of good stock of their own.

Crop production is not neglected, as the boys are taught to raise most of their feed at home. Soil preservation is stressed, also poultry and dairy. The vocational boys all over the state are organized as Future Farmers of Oklahoma (F. F. O.). These boys are nearing completion of a plan for a permanent camp where they may go and have a summer vacation.

MISS LONNA LYHENE,
Librarian.

Our library has long been one of the outstanding features of our school equipment. We have nearly three thousand volumes of well selected books suitable to the needs of the best high schools in the state. These volumes are all accessioned and indexed under the Dewey Decimal System and are accessible to the students at all times.

In addition to the regular library, we have a large reading room upon whose shelves and racks are to be found all the leading periodicals and magazines, thus supplying the student with every opportunity for instruction in current literature. Students are checked to the reading room or to the library by their teachers as need arises for work from their departments.

No library fees are charged, and the library and reading room are open to the students of both the senior and the junior high schools.

Miss Pauline says, "It might be better for some of you girls to think more about the three R's: Reading, Riting and Rithmetic; and less about the three M's: Moonlight, Motors and Men."

Mr. Boyd: "I won't call the roll today. I don't see anyone who is absent."

Mrs. Owensby: "Now, children, I shall ask you to make a sentence using the word, "chagrined." Harold Taft: "I smiled at her and she grinned."

His partner (at bridge)—"Really, what is your best suit?"
John Wolford: "The one I have on."

Estelle Boyer: "Seniors aren't what they used to be; are they?"
Willa Dell Owensby: "Why not?"
Estelle: "They used to be Juniors."

Lloyd Jansen: "Hello old top. New car?"
Tommy Green: "No! Old car, new top."

Duck: "I am indebted to you for all I know."
Miss LaGrange: "Don't mention it, it's a mere trifle."

Bob Failing: "I just bought a new suit with two pairs of pants."
Mr. Charvoz: "Well, how do you like it?"
Bob: "Fine only its too hot wearing two pairs."

Librarian, suggesting a new book: "Have you read 'Freckles'?"
Ethel Worrell: "No, just plain old brown ones."

"Fore!" yelled Mr. Owensby, ready to play. But the woman on the golf course paid no attention.

"Fore!" he shouted again with no effect.

"Aw", suggested N. R. Colby, his opponent, in disgust, try her once with 'three ninety-eight'!"

Little Eulela Boyd: "Mother, are you the nearest relative I've got?"
Her mother: "Yes, dear, and your father is the closest.'

Girl: "I dreamed I was autoing last night."
He: "Tell me about it."
Girl: "I forgot the dream, but when I awoke, I was walking in my sleep."

AMBULANCE SERVICE Night and Day Attendant

In the field of modern business so rich in opportunity for the exercise of man's finest and most varied mental facilities and moral qualities mere money cannot be regarded as the legitimate end.

Our contact with the officers of this school lead us to believe that character, quality and personality pervades its every corner and with this in mind we have based our efforts toward the successful completion of your year book.
